Head of School's Address

Dear Graduates of the Class of 2015,

This yearbook is dedicated to you in celebration of your successes. You have earned your diplomas through numerous hours of study, writing papers and projects, oral presentations and studying for exams. You have invested countless hours in volunteering for your school and your community. Your commitment to service, both locally and globally, is impressive and beyond reproach. Of course, this success would not have been possible without the strong support of your parents and teachers.

You have also enriched your Sacred Heart experience by participating in numerous co-curricular activities, including sports, clubs, cultural events, trips and the arts. Your close interaction with your teachers and school staff, both inside the classroom and beyond, is the secret to our school's success. This has resulted in our "family-like" atmosphere that is truly the epitome of "community." Your graduation represents so much more than just the completion of your high school studies. It represents a culmination of five years of hard work and commitment to your Sacred Heart community. Being a member of a worldwide network of Sacred Heart schools means you are not just alumnae of The Sacred Heart School of Montreal, but of the entire worldwide network of alumnae. I hope you appreciate the significance of this fact.

We will miss each and every one of you, and encourage you to stay connected to Sacred Heart, and to visit us often. We are all very proud of you, and wish you, the Class of 2015, great success in the next phase of your educational journey.

In closing, I would like to thank Ms. Michelle Lessey for her tireless dedication to our Memory Book, and her two very talented student editors, Mary Lynne Loftus and Zoë Yalden. They have committed an enormous amount of time and energy into making this year's edition as great as it is! On behalf of the entire school, I thank them for another outstanding product.

Assistant Head of School's Message

Dear Graduates of the Class of 2015,

From your time at Sacred Heart, I wish you many cherished memories and lasting friendships. For the years to come, I wish you time for reflection, a mind open to the world, strength and resilience in the face of adversity and an indelible spirit of optimism and adventure. May you find new people and new places to love and fulfillment in the work you choose to do.

Yearbook Editors

I had an unforgettable time working on yearbook with my fellow editor and best friend Zoë, along with the diligent, hard working and amazing members of yearbook. Thank you girls so much for being part of the team and best of luck in the years to come! Thank you to Ms. Lessey also for her tireless dedication, patience and help with the book. It wouldn't be half as aesthetically pleasing or as special without you being our advisor!

- Mary Lynne Loftus

Working on yearbook this year with one of my best friends Mary Lynne and a fantastic yearbook crew was more than any yearbook editor can ask for!

Candid Secondary I - IV

Mary Lynne Loftus

Our dearest Mary Lynne,
Congratulations on all your accomplishments! We are very proud of you and the person you have become. We wish you the very best in the future and hope all your dreams come true. We will always be there to help you out and support you. Lots of love,
Daddy and Mommy

Alessia Costanguay

Alessia,
Congratulations on your graduation! We are so proud of all your accomplishments. We could not be any happier. You truly deserve all the success, and happiness. Love you always,
Mom and Dad.

Cayleigh Sorella

■ WE'RE PROUD

We are so proud of all the accomplishments you have made since the beginning of your high school years and may you continue to thrive. Trust in your judgment and your instincts in your journey of life. We believe you can and will achieve success in anything you decide on. Felicitation ma grenouille!_!
Luv Maman, Daddy & Chloe

Julia Zito

Congratulations Julia on another great year in Secondary IV!

This past year has been a milestone; you turned 16 and had many great positive experiences like your amazing trip to Italy and Greece. I believe you have grown as an individual and demonstrated your maturity with these experiences.

We are very proud of your accomplishments! Be happy and celebrate your victories.

A quote from Eleanor Roosevelt:

"The Future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."

Your future is bright, seize the moments.

Love always from Mama and your grandparents.

Natasha Hodge-Masnaghetti

Congratulations on completing your high school education! Your grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, brother, your Dad and I, are very happy and impressed with the commitment, courage, hard work, determination and tenacity that you exhibit. We know the path has not been smooth or straight (in fact, it has often been a stormy, up-hill trek!) but you have always kept your goals in sight, and this makes us so proud of you!

As you embark upon a new chapter, Tash, I would like to remind you of our profound love and respect for you, our confidence in your decision-making, and our unfaltering support in all your endeavours.

When I look at the thoughtful, intelligent, funny, creative, loving young lady you are, I am moved only to remind you: Mistakes will happen on your path--do not be afraid of them, but instead learn from them; they are the portals of discovery. Love is a priceless gift--in a world of scarce and limited resources, it is renewable, unending, it humbles you, it makes you happy, it gets greater with use--the more you love, the more you can love. Take pride in how far you have come, have faith in how far you can go, and remember to enjoy the journey.

We are so very proud of the young lady you are Tash and we love you very much.
Mom & Dad

Dalia Varvaro

Congratulations on your numerous high school achievements Dalia!

Always remember the hopes and dreams that brought you to this day and use them as a guide in the future to achieve the goals you set for yourself.

We love you dearly and are very proud of you always!

Mom and Dad
XOXO

Shannon Rourke Thompson

You've come a long way, baby -- from QAA to OHA, and now a graduate of Sacred Heart. You've shown courage and determination, and I could not be more proud!

Grad Song (to the tune of Riptide by Vance Joy)

Written by Natalia Bedik

We were scared of detentions and the dark,
We were scared of faculty and starting conversations.
Sacred Heart, we're grads '15,
Dress uniforms in mass is killing me.

Ooooooh Ahhhhh
Ah come on

Chorus:
Five years of waking up at 6:30,
Never get to school early,
Coming to school with a coffee in our hands.
And we love it,
When we sing our songs and
I got a lump in my throat cause
We're gonna sing the words wrong.

We're a fun grade that I think you'll like,
We're 54 but nothing more, we're glad we're gradutaing.
Sacred Heart, we're grads '15,
Been here so long it feels just like a dream.

Ooooooh Ahhhhh
Ah come on

Chorus

Melanie Alfonso

For years, Queen of Angels and Sacred Heart girls have battled it out for the title of reigning all-girls Catholic school of Montreal. Whether it was being the loudest at GFC or winning over the affections of Loyola boys everywhere, Sacred Heart and QAA could always guarantee a little friendly competition. However, in August 2014, the impossible happened: nine girls (along with Yasmine Nowroozi) put their burgundy kilts aside and did the once unthinkable act of stepping foot into City House.

Good afternoon Mr. O'Donnell, Ms. Filipovich, Faculty, Parents, Guests and Graduates. I am incredibly honoured to be standing before you today as valedictorian for the graduating class of 2015. When first entering the city from their quaint and sheltered West Island lives, these aforementioned girls had no idea of the rigorous initiation process that comes with earning the title of a Sacred Heart girl. For starters, a Sacred girl speaks an entirely different language, consisting of a vocabulary far more advanced than anything one may find in Wordly Wise. I still remember, in the first few months of school, turning to Giuliana and proclaiming how thankful I was that it was "recess," only to be met with a confused glance, some laughter and the correction of "détente."

But that's not all. A Sacred girl must also have pretty outstanding cardio health, as we are all faced with the incredibly daunting daily burden that we call our stairs. Add on the weight of a couple of textbooks and the Sacred stairwell is probably the best workout you'll get all day.

Next, a Sacred girl is someone who seizes an opportunity to do what she loves, no matter how crazy. As dorky as it may sound now, I have always wanted to be a mathlete. After the umpteenth time being forced to watch Mean Girls, the part that always stuck with me was not the prom or the parties, but when Cady Heron was attending the Mathletics competition in her purple varsity jacket. When Sacred gave me the opportunity to participate in a Math Olympics competition, I was ecstatic. Though we never got Mathlete varsity jackets and I was actually really horrible at it, Sacred Heart gave me the chance to achieve my crazy athletic ambitions.

Finally, and most importantly, a Sacred girl is someone who is never afraid to have a little fun, despite the consequences. Whether it's hiding live goldfish in the bathroom on April Fools or our pitiful attempt to do the bunny hop through the corridor, Sacred girls are full of surprises. Even if it's midnight and we are away on a school trip, nothing will stop a Sacred girl from ordering a pizza to her hotel room if she is hungry.

But, once initiated, I think it is pretty safe to say that all ten of the new recruits have found their place within the Sacred Heart community. It's amazing to think how it was only months ago that we were all packed into cabins in the middle of nowhere, with no showers and no proper bathrooms, but still having a fantastic time together.

Now, the highly anticipated day of graduation is here, and I honestly don't know how to feel about it. Though I have truly appreciated my one year at Sacred Heart, I feel like there is still so much more I want to experience here. It has been such a wonderful opportunity to be one of Ms. Waldbrook's Band children, to have built robots with the Northern Knights, and, of course, be a mathlete.

This is it. We are in the midst of a big change as we begin to take on more responsibility and enter adulthood. Is it frightening? Naturally. Change is usually a pretty scary thing. Just ask any of those ten girls all those months ago. But sometimes, the outcome of that change is better than anything you could have possibly imagined. It certainly has been for me.

I would like to thank all the teachers for always supporting us through the ups and downs. Though, at times, we may have resisted, you have always been there to help us out. Thank you to all the parents as well, for sticking by us through thick and through thin, as well as giving us the opportunity to attend a school like Sacred Heart. And thank you to Father Joe, for never giving up on us in Mass, even if the answers we usually gave him were pretty lousy. And finally, thank you to the Sacred Heart student body for opening up your school to so many girls who had just lost their own. We didn't always make it easy for you, but no matter what, you always managed to help us through initiation and make us all feel like Sacred girls.

As famously said by David Bowie (because God knows I cannot possibly say anything without somehow referring to Space Oddity), "I don't know where I'm going from here, but I promise it won't be boring." Congrats ladies.

Secondary V Retreat

Friends are flowers in the garden of life.

What we thought about retreat

A retreat is a perfect way to kickstart the year. Our graduating class isn't necessarily made up of the people we've been with since Secondary I but it feels like we've known each other for a long time.

- Émilie Dupuis

Camp Caritas was such a great way of integrating both the new and current Sacred girls into the class of 2015. It was a fantastic opportunity to make new friends and get to know some of the teachers.

President's Message to the School

This year has been an amazing one! We got to do so many new activities like having ice cream served for Bring Your Own Banana, having a junior dance take place in our very own gym, spending Valentine's Day lunch watching Gossip Girl while eating cotton candy and having henna and caricature artists on Founder's Day. All this to say that I am extremely grateful to have had the opportunity to be President this year and to have represented Sacred Heart, its teachers and all of its students. This school year was without a doubt my favorite one out of all my three years here; I got to work with 14 amazing girls, I got to plan new and creative activities and most of all I got to talk to and get to know almost all the girls at school. I will definitely miss walking through the halls and every aspect of being a Sacred girl. I only hope that my next two years at Cegep will be as fun and as memorable as my last year at Sacred Heart.

- Karen Rubbo, Sacred Heart president 2015

The blue-shirted prefects of 2015 have dedicated both their time and energy to organizing fun activities for the school as well as ensuring we all had the best possible year we could have had. From the entire school, thank you prefects!

Christmas Concert

Aliens, time travel, police boxes and sonic screwdrivers: what says Christmas more? This year, Doctor Who stopped by Sacred Heart long enough to show Liana Caprera what the true meaning of Christmas was, while simultaneously stopping her arch-nemesis, The Master, from destroying Earth's history. With help from none other than St. Madeleine Sophie Barat, Liana and The Doctor restored Earth's proper timeline before The Doctor regenerated into her new form!

Une Semaine de français sous le signe de la culture! Des saynètes nous ont rappelés les contes de notre enfance et Marie-Célie Agnant a parlé avec passion de son métier d'auteur aux élèves de première et de deuxième secondaires. Niko Krump nous a fait danser sur la musique afrohouse et les élèves ont pu poursuivre leur découverte culturelle en regardant des films et en chantant des succès de la francophonie. Le CLB a une fois de plus mis en valeur les talents de plusieurs de nos élèves qui ont partagé leur réflexion sur les divers sujets du concours d'art oratoire. Sans oublier le repas de cabane à sucre maintenant devenu une tradition. Une belle semaine où la culture et le plaisir ont certainement été à l'honneur!

Sacred Heart's Got Talent

DASHABUSTADD

As is tradition in mid-February, Sacred Heart students gather in the Reception Room for DASHABUSTADD. This year, students and faculty were treated to an original production of Sacred Heart's Got Talent. Students performed for "judges" Simon Cowell, Kim Kardashian and SH alumna Lady Gaga. The singers, dancers and comedians were all entertaining and the morning concluded with a thank you address to the faculty and staff by student council president Karen Rubbo.

This year's Dashabustadd script was written and directed by Sara Amicarelli and Sabrina Belcourt. Great job girls!

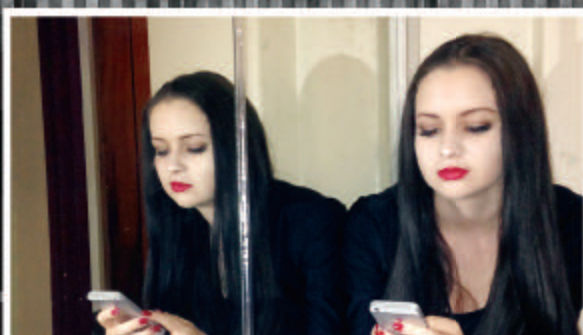

Creepy! Kooky! Mysterious and spooky! Sacred Heart played host to The Addams Family this May, as Gomez, Morticia, Fester, Grandmama, Wednesday, Pugsley, Lurch, Thing, and even Cousin Itt brought their own irreverent and offbeat sense of humor to our stage. A surprise appearance by Grandpa Addams provided a ghoulish twist. Da-da-da-dum, click, click!
